Part Two: Reading Aloud (1 minute)

You will be asked to read one of the following texts:

Text One

Last year, we raised about $80,000 for charity. Dig through your wardrobe and find something to wear—tie those laces, button those shirts, zip those jeans and show us what you have got! Remember it can be silly, crazy, old, new, black, white, checked, striped, tartan, denim, cotton or silk.

Casual Dress Day is very simple. Next Friday, do not dress yourself in school uniform, but in casual clothing. There will be a donation counter at the school entrance. We can donate some money there when we arrive at school and get a sticker. During lunch, we will have a fashion show. At the end of the day, we will count the money and it will go to charity. It's just so simple. (123 words)

Text Two

You can wear whatever you like. Lots of people like wearing comfortable clothing on CDD. You know those cargo pants you have, and those T-shirts that are so comfortable! Last year, many of us wore them to school. Other people like dressing themselves in the trendiest, foreign brands. Such people will easily find themselves a new pair of platform shoes, boot-cut jeans, a tank top or spaghetti top to wear. If you have a soft, silk tunic, you can wear it next Friday. Do not forget accessories! We can always make ourselves look smart with a nice belt or rucksack that goes well with whatever we wear.

Think carefully when you choose your clothing. It is not difficult to dress casually and smartly on CDD. (125 words)

Text Three

People may use explosives in construction projects. If the dolphins stay too close to the construction sites, the explosions will cause damage to their lungs. The dolphins may go deaf because of the loud sounds and may not be able to find food for themselves. If these things occur, the dolphins die.

People can find waste and other things that cause pollution in the waters surrounding Hong Kong. This means the water is not clean enough. It is too dirty for the dolphins. It makes the dolphins sick and kills their food supply.

The dolphins lose too much of their habitat. If they have nowhere to live or hunt, they die. Dolphins will have nothing to eat if we continue to overfish in their feeding grounds. (126 words)

Text Four
