Mak Kam Ho, Mark (4D)

Morning Assembly on 1 December 2015

Script of the speech

Mark: Hey, Jackey! Do you often play online games?

Jackey: Yes, I do. “LOL” is the game I like best recently.

Mark: “LOL”? is it the most popular online game around the world in recent years? I know you are an online game expert and so you must answer this question.

Jackey: You are right! This game is the most popular. The full name of the game is “League of Legends” and we usually call it “LOL”.

Mark: I also have lots of friends playing this game in their spare time.

Jackey: Of course. Most of the youth players like this game since it is very exciting. But the main reason why I like it is that I have built up my confidence in the game.

Mark: What? How can you build up your confidence in the game?

Jackey: True. I think I am better than the others since I always beat the other players. You know, in the game I play the role as God ...

Mark: Okay, okay, that’s enough. Jackey, although playing online games is exciting, we should not indulge ourselves in the Internet world. Otherwise, it will not be good for your studies.

Jackey: Oh I see. No wonder I got poor marks in the first UT. I think I spent too much time playing the computer games, so did not have enough time to prepare the tests.

Mark: Come on, Jackey! Don’t be upset. As long as you know your problem, I’m sure you can improve. You should also have a schedule to help yourself do the right things at the right time. For example, the exam is coming. From today onwards, you should do your revision for two hours every day.

Jackey: OK. I am determined to have better self-management. I will play computer games only at weekends. And, I will work out a schedule and then follow it closely. I will also study hard.

Mark and Jackey: Remember, do the right things at the right time in the right place! Thank you.
